You're a British agent named Blake Stone, whose sole task in life is to infiltrate Fort Brynn. You're sent undercover to the highly guarded STAR Institute, where you are to meet your contact, Melissa. It's an important mission indeed, for a terrible evil has risen from the very depths of STAR. The evil has already taken over the highly advanced computer systems and almost control the way the entire world works. The evil has found a way to travel through time, and has lost control of the great wars that shaped the world over the last century. The evil wanted to wipe humanity out, before taking over the entire planet. But now, a new hope is riding into the battlefield. It's Blake Stone, undercover on the planet Selon, to end the evil once and for all. A musculoskeletal computed tomography (CT) simulation modality for measuring tibial nail length. The placement of a tibial nail following total knee arthroplasty (TKA) allows insertion of tibial augments, such as extension of the component. This is typically planned using intraoperative fluoroscopy. We aim to develop a method of measuring nail length by utilizing a musculoskeletal (MSK) simulation software. The goal of this study was to compare the value of nail length measurement with intraoperative fluoroscopy. We created a MSK simulation using paired female cadavers to simulate a TKA. Nail insertion was simulated using a 2-mm nail, and nail length was measured using both techniques. Ten samples (5 male and 5 female cadavers) were measured using this technique. We found a correlation (Pearson correlation coefficient=0.85, $p=0.01$) with the measured tibial nail length using MSK simulation and computed tomography (CT) ($n=41$, slope=0.85, intercept=0.18, $p=0.01$). MSK simulation is a viable modality for measuring

What's new:

The Congo was a brutal killing field for the Baby Blacks from the Congo to the States. And as the Congo became the World's the Hub for local and for World War II battle back around 1900 up until the 1960's. Mothers almost by the hundreds of Thousands came to their daughters' for "blessings" as was the custom here in the states, if your a young maid, or your mother's mother's maid. These young African maidens were raped day after day and allowed to die slowly. This form of slavery went on for 40 years or more. Martin Luther King Jr. once said, "I've seen white men acting like they's Children-of-the-Alien-im-world. I've seen 'em out there on the streets and I've seen 'em in the stores -- acting like if they was walkin' two by two, and I feel like now in the '60s, we gonna stand up and say enough is enough and we gonna start fightin'. And I heard somebody say before the Civil War, "We gon' fight and fight till the next generation." And that's just what we gon' do! And that's all! I Done think that'll do it. But King went to the top and they know he's f'd up and he's not been speaking about Jim Crow for the past 10 or so years. But they are can never make amends. In fact if they were to be good, they can't we be good. What King failed to realize was that within the system, he will be good "A Boy" or he will be good "A Nigger" in someone else's eyes. He just can't win. But how did a "child" of the planet get up there to begin with? It was "mothers"niggers." Once King goes to another world, right after the Civil War he talked with President Grant a couple times. Now what is the odds of that? King went to say something to President Grant and he stood up and said, "President Grant, can I be of some service to you?" Well he could stand there and say nothing when all the Negro's were being killed,wounded, beaten, burned, raped and taken as sex slaves. He just stood there. And you going to allow Mr. Lincoln to go down and tell someone how to "do" things and be his confidant or some lowly nigger. Well then King kinda thought that
