You are the survival crew of the Thoraxia. You're a war-hardened bunch of survivors who were plucked from the wreckage of your star ship by space pirates. You're trapped in an orbital station. You're facing extinction by a deranged AI known as Archon. You must uncover the mysteries of the station, and above all else you must survive! In this game, most of the ship is focused on survival. You start each game in an orbital station with about half the crew left alive. But the orbital station is filled with radiation and other hazards. The station has a very fragile ecosystem and a very small crew. So if you want to survive, you'd better get going. This is a "games are born from video games" kind of game. It's about finding a way to beat a challenging AI with awesome powers into submission. You can choose your own path. You can choose to succeed or to die trying. You can choose to join a race or to take a neutral stance. You can choose any number of races, number of races, alignments or factions, or none at all. With your new racial techs, and some unique abilities, you can do some incredible things. You can design a race specific for combat and for scientific exploration. You can run through some of the tech tree and choose any combination of races to optimize yourself for specific effects. There's more to the game than just survival. There's plenty of content to unlock and tackle in-game. The team wants to make this game as big as the solar system it's in. We expect that there will be lots of surprises in store. Note: Please see the end of this announcement for technical details. Special thanks to Chris Oliver and the fine folks at Taldren Games for this new content! For any technical matters, as a bonus, here is the content dump: 6 completely new races 6 completely new flagship abilities 12 completely new techs 12 completely new species 1 completely new mission 11 completely new art assets 1 completely new main menu art asset New player ship designs for both main and station A whole c9d1549cdd

1. Choose your character, and select your experience levels for five different chapters. 2. An in-game map shows you where your quest destination is. The map may be zoomed in to view all the towns and cities around your quest destination. 3. All your shops are also shown on the map. You can also drag your finger across the map and choose to view the shops in your range. All items to be purchased are displayed on the shop windows of the shops. 4. When in the game world, you can collect gold and items at any time by attacking monsters and creatures that are within your range. You may also fight other players on your quest and earn battle points. 5. Fight your way through the many towns and cities as your quest takes you from The Vale Islands to a mysterious land called the Darkwood! 6. Outside of the game world, you can request a quest at any time. This could lead you to a town and away from Darklin! 7. BATTLE COMMANDER: The battle commander feature gives you control over all characters on the field. From the main menu, you can click on a character's portrait to issue orders and control them during battle. 8. PERMA-PAUSE: With the perma-pause feature, you may pause the game at any time without returning to the main menu. However, any battle units will return to their predefined battle positions when you unpauses the game. 9. A new feature in the game called the "Battle Engine" makes your experience even better. The Battle Engine provides an in-depth explanation about the rules of each battle unit, including the use of hit points, various abilities, and the movement of enemies and battle units. 10. The "Field Calculator" tool calculates your power levels during battle, and provides a comparison of different battle units. You can try various battle units to improve your strongest team of battle units.
