Not sure how to explain the structure of the silicone, but it is a typical "soft" silicone that comes wrapped in stiff cardboard and a sheet of latex membrane. In addition to this "lip" I also need some type of "mound". What is that, exactly, and is it available in a place like Amore Pacific? Thanks.
A: ...that comes wrapped in stiff cardboard and a sheet of latex membrane I believe that is a leaf mold. In case it is not (which I highly doubt), a leaf mold has certain properties as I describe here. what is that, exactly, it is a mold that has been used to make casts of individual lips or lips of a person. You can get them for this purpose in various sizes. I would not use it for a miniature and think it is usually too big. that comes wrapped in stiff cardboard Cardboard is probably useful, because it is rigid and thus helps to stabilize the lip. But a traditional lip mold should be rigid enough to stay in place on its own (see here). a sheet of latex membrane In case you need a non-latex lip, you could look at these commercial products. But keep in mind that it is easy to damage lips by heat. using System.Collections.Generic; using System.Threading.Tasks; using GitCommands.Commands; using GitUI.CommandsDialogs; using GitUI.CommandsDialogs.Actions; using GitUI.CommandsDialogs.Editors; using GitUI.CommandsDialogs.Sections; using GitUI.Widgets; namespace
